

A

- a B is going to read a sentence to you. Listen and change a word from the box below to form a noun/adjective/adverb/verb to complete B's sentence.

admire	extinct	happy	modern
person	repeat	wide	wonder

- b Read your first sentence to B but don't say the word in CAPITALS, say 'bleep'. B will complete the sentence with the appropriate word.

- c Continue taking turns to read your sentences.

- The weather in Britain is very bleep. In one day you can have sun, wind and rain. CHANGEABLE
- This is a secret message. bleep it and then burn it. MEMORIZE
- You can imagine my bleep when I heard I'd failed the exam. DISAPPOINTMENT
- I could never be a teacher. I'm too bleep. IMPATIENT
- Many people are against using animals in bleep experiments. MEDICAL
- Nobody can understand what our teacher says. He should bleep his language. SIMPLIFY
- I've never had an accident because I drive very bleep. CAREFULLY
- I love shopping in hypermarkets because of the wide bleep of products. VARIETY

B

- a Read your first sentence to A but don't say the word in CAPITALS, say 'bleep'. A will complete the sentence with the appropriate word.

- b Now A will read a sentence to you. Listen and change a word from the box below to form a noun/adjective/adverb/verb to complete A's sentence.

care	vary	disappoint	memory
medicine	patience	simple	change

- c Continue taking turns to read your sentences.

- Many animals such as the tiger and the whale are in danger of bleep. EXTINCTION
- That's a bleep idea! Let's go to Paris for the weekend. WONDERFUL
- The man's complaint was so serious that the hotel manager decided to write to him bleep. PERSONALLY
- This song's awful. The lyrics are so bleep – they just say the same thing again and again. REPETITIVE
- The company will lose money if it doesn't bleep its machinery soon. MODERNIZE
- After years of bleep they eventually divorced. UNHAPPINESS
- I've got a lot of bleep for your mother. She's a marvellous person. ADMIRATION
- They're going to bleep the motorway and have three lanes instead of two. WIDEN